

PROFESSIONAL RESEARCH AND PUBLISHING

Professional research and the publication of articles and constructive commentary on instructionally related matter will be regarded as an indication of professional progress; however, school employees shall not engage in professional research and/or publication-related efforts during working hours. The use of any data available to the employee as a part of his/her job assignment shall not be used for professional research and/or publication unless consent to do so is given by the Superintendent.

[Adoption date: September 25, 1995]